
MTD 5 HP E640F

Posted by Greg - 12/20/2008 00:06am

Hello:

I have a 5HP E640F snowblower that has been working very well.
I maintain its engine very well.

Howeve, I am having problems with it stalling.
I can run the unit up against the wall and wheels will spin, so I know it has the Horsepower.
However, as soon as I engage the augers and with little resistance, the engine stalls.

I am looking for help and any ideas of what would cause this to stall.
The augers are not jammed.

Thoughts?

Hello,

I am having the exact same problem with my 20 year old Columbia 8HP.

Please email me your solutions to james.murray@videotron.ca

Thanks,

James Murray.
